WACHUSETT

Dear Seniors,

The past four years have been ones of trials and tribulations. We have made mistakes, but we (hopefully) learned from them. We have made messes, but turned around and made something beautiful out of them. Our time at Wachusett has prepared us for a wonderful future. Since freshman year we have been dreaming of the day we graduate and dreading how far away it seemed but here we are, four years later. As bittersweet as it is to leave behind something so familiar to us, we have to in order to move on to bigger and better things. We can reminisce back to our first pep rally or football game under the lights. We can laugh about how we acted freshman year and we can be proud of the work we put in to get this far. As senior year comes to a close, remember to thank everybody who helped you to get here. Thank your teachers, even the difficult ones, for helping you grow academically. Thank your parents who stuck by you even when you were difficult. Thank your friends who stayed with you and make this journey enjoyable. It is time to leave this place and begin a new path. Best of luck class of 2017!

U.S. PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION & DEBATES

In the lead up to Donald Trump's win of the 2016 U.S. Presidential Election, 84 million people watched the first 2016 Presidential Debate between Donald Trump and Hillary Clinton, 66.5 million watched the second and 71.6 million the third, say the Nielsen ratings. That's two out of the three most watched Presidential debates on record.

DUMPING ICY WATER ON ALS

In the summer of 2014 the "Ice Bucket Challenge" raised $115 million in eight weeks. These donations, that helped fund more research, have paid off. The specific gene responsible for ALS has been identified, which brings scientists one step closer to discovering a cure.

FAKE NEWS FLOOD

In the wake of the 2016 U.S. Presidential election, Americans became aware of a growing problem with the news media. Many political news stories widely shared on social media websites were discovered to be fake. Whether the spread of such stories influenced the political opinion in any significant way is still under investigation.

NATURAL DISASTERS

Every year has its share of reminders that humans are still at the mercy of the forces of nature, and this year was no different. In August, Louisiana suffered a devastating flood, the result of more than 31 inches of rainfall in 15 hours. It was the worst natural disaster since Hurricane Sandy. In September, Hurricane Matthew moved through the Caribbean, eventually traveling along the Eastern coastal region of the U.S. In all, the Hurricane resulted in 49 deaths and around $6 billion in damage. In November, Winter Storm Argos let fall 54 inches of snow in Central New York, and in Binghamton, NY it became the largest snowstorm since 1905.

ZIKA THREAT REMAINS

The Zika virus, transmitted to humans by mosquitoes, is linked to birth defects, putting pregnant women most at risk for contraction. The virus first became known to U.S. citizens from its widely publicized outbreak in Brazil, which gave rise to a flood of travel warnings. Although the World Health Organization declared that Zika is no longer a global emergency, the threat has spread to U.S. soil, both to Florida and Texas, prompting the Center for Disease Control to issue an advisory against travel for pregnant women to certain counties in these states.

CRISIS IN ALEPPO

Over the last two decades, the Battle for Aleppo has grown out the Syrian Civil war. Rebel forces in conflict with Syrian Forces advanced on Aleppo in February 2012, turning the city into an increasingly embattled warzone. Since then, civilian deaths have reached into the tens of thousands. In December 2016, a ceasefire was declared between the rebel groups and government-backed forces, and the evacuation of the rebels and their families followed.

BOB DYLAN WINS NOBEL PRIZE

The Nobel Prize committee awarded Bob Dylan the Nobel Prize for Literature, becoming the first musician to win the prize. Traditionally reserved for creators of written works, the prize was given to Dylan for "having created new poetic expressions within the great American song tradition."

YAHOO! SUFFERS HISTORIC SECURITY BREACH

In the largest cybersecurity breach in history, over 1 billion Yahoo! user accounts were compromised. Information exposed in the breach included passwords, names, dates, and other sensitive items. Yahoo! officials did not say who carried out the attack, but urged its users to change passwords.

BRITAIN VOTES TO LEAVE EU

On June 23, more than 30 million British citizens voted on a referendum on whether Britain should leave the European Union (EU). 52% voted for leaving. The implications of Britain's decision to leave the EU are far reaching, both economically and socially. So far, experts have no easy answers for the how, why, or even when this will play out.

THE BABIES ACT

President Obama signed into law a bill that requires government buildings to install baby changing stations not only in women's restrooms, but in men's restrooms as well. The bill, called the BABIES Act, received bipartisan support, and was the result of recognizing the growing place of men in the basic duties of child care.

RECORD HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATION RATE

The end of the 2015-2016 school year marked a high point for educators, students and parents throughout the U.S., when more students successfully graduated than in any previous year. It was the fifth record-setting year in a row, raising the high school graduation rate to an all-time high of 84%.

MALL OF AMERICA GOES DARK ON THANKSGIVING

The Mall of America, the U.S.'s biggest indoor mall, decided to keep its doors closed on Thanksgiving. This meant turning consumers away on the eve of Black Friday, the biggest consumer spending day of the year. The move came at no small cost, but benefited the many employees, allowing them to spend the holiday with friends and family.

DAKOTA ACCESS PIPELINE

The Dakota Access Pipeline is a proposed project to install a pipeline between North Dakota and Illinois. The pipeline would transport 570,000 barrels of crude oil a day harvested from North Dakota's Bakken Shale. The project has come under controversy, with protesters objecting that the pipeline endangers sections of the Missouri River, a primary source of drinking water of the Native American Sioux Tribe. Responding to safety concerns, the Department of the Army declared that it will discover and use an alternative pipeline route. Removing much uncertainty around the future of the project, President Trump, in the week after taking office, issued a Presidential Memorandum effectively permitting the completion of pipeline.

DISCOVERIES

HEART-TO-HEART

By growing heart muscle cells in the lab from stem cells donated by a healthy macaque monkey, scientists have successfully regenerated the damaged heart of another macaque monkey. Scientists involved in the study think human trials are likely in a few years, and could pave the way to curing many forms of heart disease.

HEALTHY, WOOLY AND WISE

In 1996, Dolly the Sheep started out her life unlike most sheep, in a test tube as a clone. She became a scientific media phenomenon, and potential evidence that cloning methods worked. Six years later she was put to rest after tumors were found in her lung. Her premature death left in its wake questions about whether clones could live healthy lives. Now, 20 years later, it looks like the question has been answered. Daisy, Diana, Debbie, and Denise are sheep cloned from the same cell line as Dolly, but unlike her, have aged into their senior years, as healthy as any non-cloned sheep.

NEW GIRAFFE SPECIES SPOTTED

A new study analyzing the DNA of 190 giraffes across Africa revealed an unexpected fact. What was formerly thought to be a single species of giraffe turns out to be not one, but four species: the southern giraffe; the Masai giraffe; the reticulated giraffe, and the northern giraffe.

FEATHERS FROM THE PREHISTORIC PAST

The feathers of a dinosaur's tail was discovered preserved in a 99-million-year-old piece of amber, marking the first time dinosaur material has been found preserved in such a way. Lida Xing, a geoscientist from China University, found the specimen for sale at an amber market in Myanmar.

GOLDILOCKS PLANET DISCOVERED

Proxima B could be a potentially Earth-like, habitable, and life-containing planet located in the vicinity of Proxima Centauri. At 24.94 trillion miles away, this makes it the nearest star to our own solar system. Proxima B is in a "Goldilocks" region that allows for the possibility of both life and water in its liquid state. In other words, it's not so distant from its own sun that it's too cold, but not so close that it's too hot.

LOOSENING PARALYSIS' GRIP

Advancing scientific research is helping those afflicted with paralysis. A man, once paralyzed from the chest down, is now able to play a computerized guitar with the aid of a computer chip implanted in his brain. Another, a quadriplegic, is now able to manipulate a robotic hand and feel pressure from its fingertips.

CRISPR GENE EDITING

CRISPR, a new tool developed by scientists is paving the way to a world in which we can cure any disease, prevent any infections, and design organisms from the ground up. CRISPR genome editing technology, which allows for the precise and direct manipulation of specific genes, has the potential to transform the field of biology and the power of medicine.

HUMANS ON MARS BY 2030?

Working toward bringing humans to Mars, NASA is developing ways to keep humans alive on their journey to the Red Planet, their stay, and then the return trip back to Earth. One such method may be the use of a newly discovered Martian ice deposit, which contains as much water as Lake Superior, the largest freshwater lake on Earth.

HEY, I'M (STILL) DRIVING HERE!

Tesla and Uber unleashed the first wave of self-driving cars onto U.S. roadways. While some Tesla models include all the onboard technology to fully pilot themselves, regulations restrict them from taking full control. For now, the self-automated vehicles are limited to managing their own speed, parking themselves, and changing lanes.

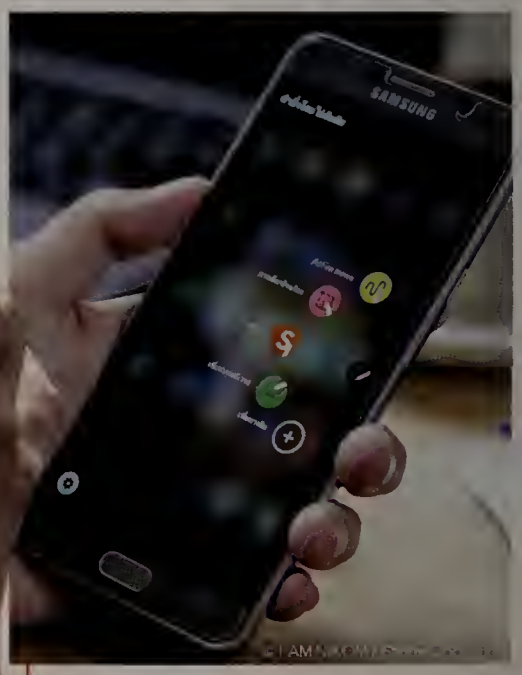
HOME, SMART HOME

Google and Amazon widened their reach into consumer's homes this year. Amazon's tech, called "Echo," and Google's, "Google Home," are low-profile, speaker-like devices, waiting to supply information or carry out commands. For example, users can order the delivery of goods and services, schedule events, ask questions, dim lights, or have music or video played on connected devices.



SAMSUNG NOTABLE PHONE RECALL

Users of Samsung's Note 7 smartphone began reporting explosions of the device while charging. This prompted the South Korean company to suspend sales and urge owners to exchange the device for non-faulty units. An official recall was issued in September by the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commision. The device was eventually discontinued, and the U.S. Federal Aviation Commission and Department of Transportation deemed it a hazard and banned it from all flights.The recall and discontinuation affected over 2 million devices and cost Samsung an estimated $17 billion in revenue.

WHERE IS REALITY HEADED?

Two new innovated, related technologies, "mixed or augmented reality" and "virtual reality," are starting to grab public attention. Both use "head mounted displays"—basically computer displays strapped to users' heads like glasses or goggles—to project information onto real world objects or allow for total immersion into digital space. The equipment is still costly but becoming cheaper, with companies from Microsoft to Sony creating products aimed at the everyday consumer.

THE POWER OF THE SUN

After 550 hours of flight and 25,000 miles of travel, Solar Impulse 2 touched down, completing the world's first solar-powered flight around the globe. The aircraft embarked from Abu Dhabi and 18 months later completed its round-trip. While the aircraft itself could have made the flight without stopping, the pilots needed to land every month to rest up before resuming. Future expectations for the aircraft is to fly solar powered around the globe on autopilot.

SPARKS TRIUMPH OVER LYNX IN WNBA FINALS

The LA Sparks beat the Minnesota Lynx in the WNBA Finals 3 games to 1. The team's first championship win since 2002 was, however, not without controversy. In a postgame review of late-game footage, WNBA officials determined that a late-game shot by Nneka Ogwumike "should not have counted due to a shot-clock violation, and that the referees improperly failed to review the play under the instant replay rules." Despite this commentary, the win officially stands, with the victory going to the Sparks.

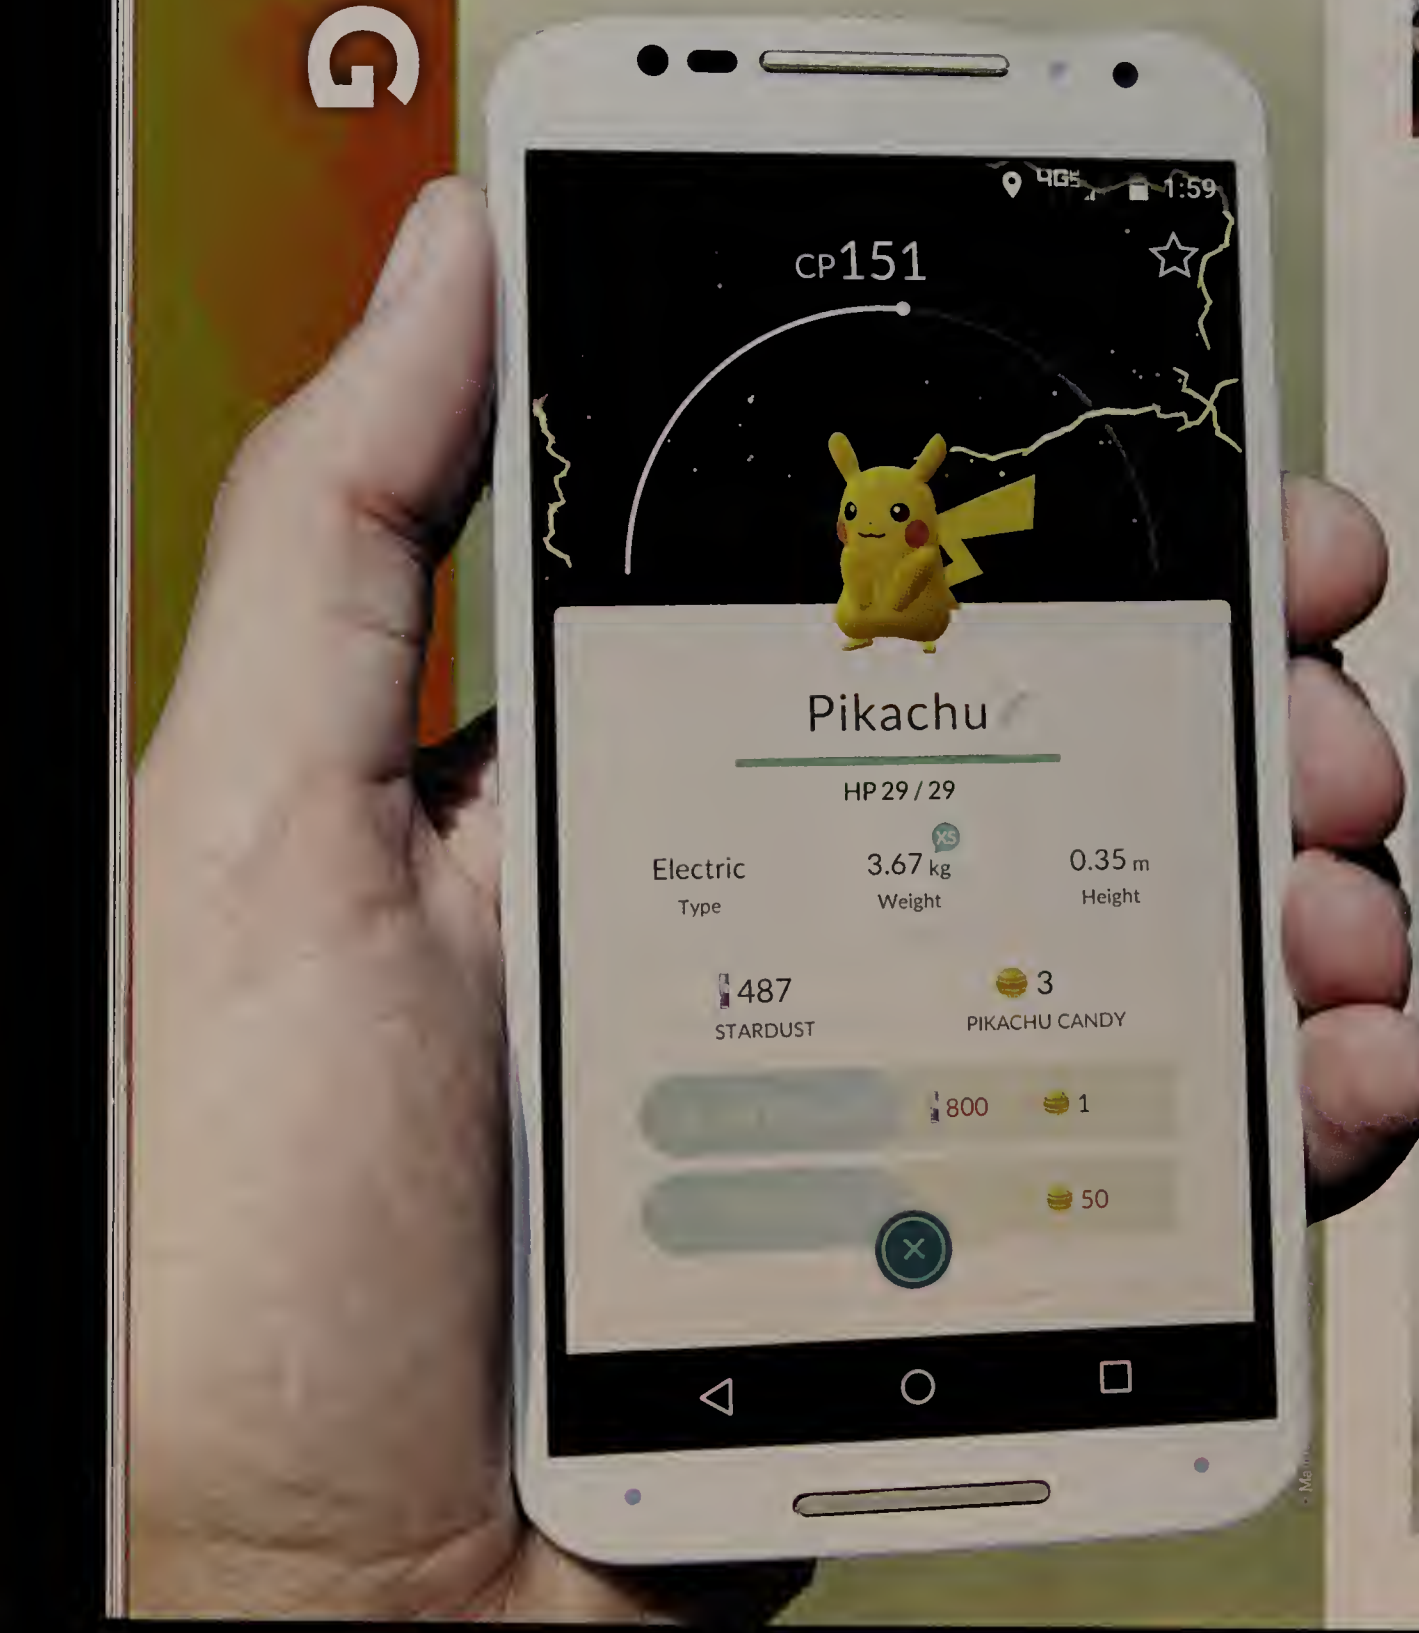
GOTTA' CATCH 'EM ALL

Pokemon Go took the top spot for most-played mobile app game in history, clocking in over 500 million downloads and, at its peak in July, 21 million daily active users. That's more than Snapchat, Twitter, Instagram or Facebook. This trend quickly played out with 79% of players shelving the game by September.



FLIPPING OUT

The trick, known simply as "water bottle flipping," is one of the biggest crazes of the year. Take a partially filled bottle of water, hold it from its mouth, flip it through the air, and get it to stick its landing upright. As thousands of kids can attest, the trick requires finesse, control and tons of practice. The original water bottle flipping video that started it all racked up 6.6 million views in under five months.

MEMES, MOST SEARCHED INTERNET TERM

According to Google Trends, which tracks the popularity of terms people search for on Google, "memes" is now the number one most searched word. And what exactly is a meme? It's an image with a catchy phrase or a humorous video. Memes aren't always merely silly though. Some are political, and some have important social messages. In any case, memes are everywhere these days, and it looks like they are here to stay.

WORLD GETS BUSY STAYING STILL

"The Mannequin Challenge," one of the biggest viral video phenomena of the year, drew participants from schools to stadiums to workplaces with its simple idea--freeze time and film it. Whether the situation was common or strange, in a large group or small, it meant everyone kept completely still, "mannequin-like," sometimes in elaborate poses, while a cameraperson roamed through the scene and filmed it. The resulting videos, often set to music, were the thing to watch this year.

EVERYTHING OLD IS NEW AGAIN

1980s and 1990s fashion is back. Walk the halls of any school and you'll see high-tops, overalls, birkenstocks, shirts slung around the waist, high-waisted jeans, flannels, backpacks, crop tops, and hoop earrings. Metallic lipstick, too, is getting its fair share of attention. It might not be a throwback, but it seems to pair well with the wider trend.
